

News and Updates:

- Wondering how you can help our community during COVID-19? Donating blood is an easy and essential way to give back right now. Visit southtexasblood.org to sign up for an appointment at a donor center or at a community blood drive. Appointments are now required to allow proper social distancing among donors. You can even fill out your pre-donation health questionnaire online before your appointment to make the process smoother. Remember, we're in this together!

